SUCCESS OF EDGERTON'S FIRST FAIR REFLECTS CREDIT ON BOTH VILLAGE AND GROWING DISTRICT

First Annual Fair at Edgerton Held under Best Possible Conditions with Surprisingly Large Attendance. A Start Made of which Management Can Be Proud. Exhibits were well up to the Standard.

WAINWRIGHT DID THE GRAND

The start was a good one and very creditable to all who were in any way responsible for such a fair. Edgerton has made its start that will redound to its credit. The first annual fair held at that point on Wednesday last, under the auspices of the Agricultural Society, was entirely successful. In few words, it was thus described by all who attended.

From every corner of the district came exhibitors, determined to make the first effort a success. These efforts proved of avail and the management have every reason to boast of the result. Although, few buildings had been constructed for the occasion, it made little difference for the weather was exceptionally fine and continued so far the entire day. The surprisingly large crowd lent every assistance towards making the affair a success and worked with the several committees in every possible way. As for Wainwright, the town was closed for the afternoon and every business man, alighted in the day's proceedings. Every available automobile carried parties to and fro, while the afternoon express was crowded with eager pleasure seekers and sightseers.

The exhibits were of high standard, the show of live stock being splendid. The collection of grains, vegetables and roots was of high class and would have done credit to a district of more established age. The fancy work was perhaps the best drawing card of the day, the building in which the exhibits were shown being packed to the doors from morning until night.

As for the management and directors in charge of the fair, they cannot be too highly commended for the excellent start they have made. They, too, are satisfied with the result and they have every justification for feeling so.

Record that Has Spoken

On Friday afternoon last, Sir Wilfrid Laurier tendered his resignation as premier of Canada to Earl Grey. Sir Wilfrid's resignation was short but was nevertheless dignified and expressive. It contained but five words, "One record speaks for itself." The retiring cabinet ministers have harried in their resignations also.

UNIQUE WEDDING JOINED COUPLE ON THE STAGE

Miss Pearl Vohl and Roy W. Haug, joined in Holy Wedlock After Completion of Play, Put on by Harry St. Clair.

SUMPTUOUS WEDDING DINNER AT PARK HOTEL

After the St. Clair Stock Company had presented Dora Thorne on Wednesday evening last, a very interesting and unique wedding ceremony was solemnized on the stage of the Auditorium and before a large audience by Rev. Thomas Phillips. The principals in the happy event were Mr. Roy William Haug and Miss Pauline Vohl, both of whom are members of the St. Clair company.

Previous to this unusual ceremony, it was thought by many that the wedding would be a failure, but all grounds for such a belief were quickly dispelled when the curtain arose and the bridegroom stood facing the minister, supported by his friend and fellow actor, Mr. Charles Jackson. A moment after the curtain rose, Miss Vohl entered the stage, leaning on the arm of Mr. St. Clair by whom she was given in marriage. The bride, who was supported by Mrs. Charles Jackson, was charmingly attired in white tulle, underlaid with white Japanese silk and carried a bouquet of white American beauty roses. Mrs. Jackson, the bridesmaid, was becomingly attired in white silk, trimmed with chiffon, while both the groom and best man were in full dress. All the members of the company were present on the stage and in the faint shade of the lamp light, presented a beautiful scene in their rich gowns and habits.

After the ceremony, a sumptuous wedding dinner was given in honor of the happy couple at the Park Hotel, the host of the occasion being the popular manager, Harry St. Clair. Covers were laid for fifteen and included in the guests in addition to the members of the company were several townspeople, who were present on special invitation from Mr. St. Clair. The dinner was a bounteous one and was of such dimensions as to call forth the highest praise from the guests. All who were present, expressed their good wishes to Mr. and Mrs. Haug in short words, imposed by Mr. St. Clair. Unbounded harmony was manifest and was indeed becoming to the expressions of congratulations and good wishes. The guests were in one accord in wishing the happy couple many years of unbroken joy and happiness. The dinner was brought to a close in much the same manner in which the unique ceremony was solemnized.

We are going to continue in business but we must have the cash. The Wainwright Fuel Company.

GEOGRAPHICAL LOCATION OF WAINWRIGHT IS OF MUCH IMPORTANCE

Founded on this Reason together with Obvious Evidence of the Future Growth Large Warehouse Being Erected for THE I.H. COMPANY

Following up the intention of making Wainwright's geographical location the one reason for recognizing it as an important strategic point, construction has started on a large warehouse, adjoining the G.T.P. tracks here, that will be of sufficient dimensions to handle all the farming machinery and implements, sold by the agencies of the International Harvester Company from Saskatchewan boundry to Edmonton on the line of the G.T.P.

The building is being constructed by Mr. Olf Girard, who will be in charge of all transfers made through Wainwright. Fifty feet wide and one hundred long, the structure will be of ample size to house hundreds of implements, handled by the different agencies. Machinery will be shipped from here to the surrounding towns where it is sold. It is certain that the company intends making Wainwright a distributing centre of no small importance.

Now that definite plans for a skating rink have been announced, it is to be hoped that no interest will be lost until the structure is completed. Those who have been holding their hands off for a skate, should remain with their fingers determined of making the venture a success.

Grading on First Avenue is progressing very favourably. Contractor Johnson being now at work with upwards of twelve teams. Judging from the rapidity with which the ground is being torn up, the street will be opened to traffic within the next week.

Typhoid fever has by no means abated in the town, several new cases having developed during the past week. Although several patients at the hospital are in a critical condition, they are not considered seriously ill.

Mrs. J. N. Beaudry, who has been visiting her son, Mr. G. N. Beaudry, for the past week, returned home to Edmonton on Friday last.

On Friday evening, the Women's Auxiliary of the Church of England will hold a game dinner and concert in the Auditorium, commencing at 5.30. Great preparations have been made by those in charge of the affair and it will undoubtedly be successful.

A MILD WINTER

The impression among the farmers is that the coming winter will be exceptionally mild, their reason for so saying having its origin in the fact that the geese are very late in taking their southern flight.

LOST LOST LOST

A Green Parrot last seen on top of post office screaming, "Buy your coal from the Wainwright Fuel Company."

Tuesday, October 24th, is the date set for the holding of the Provincial by-elections in the constituencies of Lethbridge, Calgary, Melrose and Gleichen. Nomination day will be held on Tuesday, October 24th.

85 in Shade in October

The weather may be called warm in October, when the thermometer in the shade rises to 85, while in the sun, the mercury registers 120 degrees. Such was the case on Monday, the sun shining in splendour of a hot day in July. If this kind of weather had started about two months ago and continued until the present, the farmers would have been independent.

WANT RAILROADS BEFORE NEED OF RECIPROCITY

Says James K. Cornwall in Speaking of Result of Recent Elections in regard to the People of Peace River Country

WOULD HAVE NO EFFECT FOR MANY YEARS TO COME

Previous to the expected announcement of a provincial election and the consequent volume of campaign work, James K. Cornwall, M. P. for the Peace River, has otherwise been known as the "King" of that country, and A. Bramley, M. P. for Alexander, were in town on Wednesday and Thursday last. The object of their visit was undoubtedly for the express purpose of ascertaining the views of the towns and communities, politically, although it is also thought that Mr. Moore has finally been aroused to the fact that in order to hold his supporters, he must visit his constituents occasionally at least. While here, both representatives gave out many interesting interviews and reviewed on many occasions the result of the recent election campaign.

Asked as to how the agreement would have affected the Peace River country, Mr. Cornwall stated, "In no way, whatsoever. What we want first are railroads, transportation facilities and the opening up of one of the richest and most fertile lands in the Dominion. After that the inhabitants of the Peace River might consider reciprocity, but at this early stage, it matters little whether we have it or not."

On the other hand, reciprocity was strongly supported by Mr. Moore during the late campaign and his belief was logical when he affirmed that it would have meant much to the West in particular. The fate of the pact, said he, had been decided by Ontario, a province that has a home market of greater dimensions than any other. Mr. Moore reviewed the natural resources of the province in detail and did not expect to see Borden grant them to Alberta for some time to come, although they would undoubtedly follow after the promise he had made. After renewing acquaintances with many members of the "old liberal guard," they left for Edmonton on Thursday.

MACHINISTS AND BOILERMAKERS OF G.T.P. BETWEEN EDSON AND WESTFORD STRUCK YESTERDAY

Result of Deadlock Between Machinists and Boilermakers and Officials of G.T.P. Means that Strike will be a Prolonged One. Fourteen Men Walked from Local Roundhouse Yesterday Morning. CONCILIATION BOARD REFUSED

Refusing to make the concessions demanded from the management of the G.T.P. by the machinists and boiler-makers between Westford and Edson, a general strike was declared by these employees yesterday morning, the entire number in every shop leaving work at 10 o'clock. Although the men to a man stopped work in every shop along the railroad system and have tied up the work temporarily, it was not done with the purpose of causing an immediate "tie up," neither was any of the most important work to be done left standing, before the men walked from the shops.

The immediate cause for the strike resulted from the fact that through the orders of E. J. Chamberlain, the three hundred or more workers at Rivers, Man., were locked from the shops and not allowed to enter. Such was the answer to the concessions, asked by the shopmen.

For the past six months, the men have endeavored to secure a new schedule that would conform with that upheld by their union. Efforts have been made to get in conference with the Company's representatives but they have been persistently held off, it is stated. The chief cause for complaint in the fact that the time subsidies were applied for, the company stipulated that the same schedule of wages be paid as on existing parallel lines of railway in the West. The rate on the C.P.R. and C.N.R. at corresponding points in Alberta is 45 cents per hour while on the G.T.P. 37 1/2 cents is paid.

The number of men affected is about five hundred, while at this point about fourteen have laid down their tools. No developments have yet followed and it is uncertain as to how it will be viewed by the railway company. It is evident, however, that the officials do not wish to consent to the new schedule.

"RELIGION AND THE OLD FLAG CAUSED IT"

W. A. Young, President of the Canada Press Association, and editor of the Cornwall Freeholder, was a visitor in town last week. The express purpose of Mr. Young's journey here was to view the buffalo, the suggestion being made by Mr. W. P. Hinton, General Passenger Agent for the G.T.P. While here, Mr. Young was taken over the district by J. H. Dawson in his auto.

Mr. Young is a prominent Ontario Liberal and resides at Cornwall where he is the editor and publisher of an enterprising sheet, entitled the "Freeholder." During the recent election campaign, he phyed an important part and, although the candidate for whom he worked was unsuccessful, he still maintains that reciprocity would have been the better course for Canada to have adopted. He states that religion and the "old flag" were important factors in the defeat of the Laurier administration.

Mr. Young is a brother of R. E. Young, D. L. S., by whom all maps sent out from the Department of the Interior, are compiled and drawn. The latter Mr. Young also holds the distinction of having discovered several large tracts of lands to the north of Canada, one of which now bears his name.

Pleasantries in "Scabbin' on the Job"

Developments Follow in G.T.P. Strike Declared --- Local Strike Breakers Started Work this Morning and Experience Varied Revelations

Developments have followed in the strike, declared by the machinists and boiler-makers of the G.T.P., although they are of local origin. This morning, as two local young men, who could not otherwise get a job of such a nature had not the occasion of a strike permitted, went to the roundhouse to act in the competency of "strike breakers" or as it is known among union men, "scabs," they found that the atmosphere around the shop was not altogether satisfactory and pleasant. Before noon, one of these men had numerous tokens of disdain showered upon him, while the other had his shoes filled with cylinder oil. And in the face of this, they went back to work this afternoon.

Mrs. Edward Ellis, who has been ill for the past week with typhoid fever, is considerably improved and will be around again in a week or so.

TYPHOID PATIENT SUCCUMBS AFTER BRIEF SICKNESS

As the result of a severe attack of typhoid fever, William Forsyth, who was stricken down with the ailment, while working on the street grading last week, succumbed on Saturday morning at the hospital. From the fact that none of his relatives were in this country at the time of the death, it was particularly sad.

The late young man was a son of D. R. Forsyth of Finch, Ont., and was yet in his teens, being but eighteen years of age. He had been in the West for about five years and during that time had won his people twice. Beside the sorrowing parents, three sisters and two brothers survive to mourn his loss.

The body was taken to Ontario on Monday, by Mr. Angus Grant, whose home is near that of the deceased young man. Burial will be made at Finch, Ont. in the family lot there.

76 Lawyers Exclude all in Majority Flies Boil all at Ottawa Table Water

The members elect of the new parliament include 76 lawyers. Other callings will be represented as follows: Farmers, 30; merchants, 22; doctors, 21; manufacturers, 17; lumbermen, 10; journalists, 8; notaries, 7; law students, 1; labor men, 1; live stock exporters, 1; stock brokers, 1.—Manitoba Free Press.

As a prevention to the infectious typhoid that is now very prevalent in the town, it is suggested that all water be boiled, all milk kept from this as far as possible and flies excluded from the house entirely. Reliable authorities state that if these rules are followed, there should be no fear of the infection.

TEACHING SCIENTIFIC FARMING by Special Train.

THIS is the parable of the two brothers. Once there were two brothers, these were farmers, and they went into the western country and tilled the soil. The one brother was ambitious, and dreamed of big crops, but the other brother was content to go his way, and he was content to go his way. But by and by a time of drought came, and the land and the crops were bad. And then the brother who was ambitious, girded up his loins and betook himself to the city, where men congregated, and there he took counsel of all those who were well versed in the art of sowing and reaping, and so, when he had sowed and reaped, his crops were full to overflowing, while those of his brother were empty and barren.

That is the story of the two brothers, but it is also the story of thousands of others in the Canadian wheat fields. For the last something spectacular. That is how the advocates of scientific farming came to ride in railway coaches.

The Canadian Pacific Railway is the pioneer road in connection with the running of these trains, and has been very successful in the results obtained. There are some who are wont to complain that this method of teaching the farmers is too expensive, but when it is considered that if the train is only the means of adding one bushel per acre to the average grain yield of the West, the expenditure is warranted. Add one bushel per acre to the yield from all the millions of acres under cultivation in the prairie provinces of Canada and you will get a money result that would pay for many trains at the present rate per ton.

It was in 1900 that the first Canadian Pacific Railway Special Train reached the coast of farming to the Canadian land tillers. In the spring of that year the far-dairy utensils, and charts providing instructive lessons in the economical production of milk. Demonstrations were given in butter making, and lectures were of most interest to the localities visited.

Demonstrations were given in the judging of vegetables for table use, the demonstrations being accompanied with lectures showing how to grow and hold in storage such supplies as can be produced in a farmer's garden. Demonstrations also were given in the planting of trees, and instructions given in the growing of small fruits and the beautifying of the farm house. Specimens of insects injurious to farm crops were also shown and methods of killing them outlined.

There is no doubt about the value of these trains. Any farmer that could be given in this connection would at the very best give a very inadequate idea of the results, but it is a fact that nearly every farmer who attended the lectures made some permanent and lasting change in his method of running the farm. This came as a direct result of the visit of the agricultural train.

As a method of studying human nature, the tour could hardly have been equalled. It was an education in itself to watch the crowds that filled these cars day after day as the train made its slow way across the prairie. Old men bent with years of toil sat side by side with strong limbed newcomers, and fairly reached their majority. Wives and daughters crowded into the dairy cars and Indian children from the Government schools mingled with the children of the other races, and listened to the lectures on the bird and animal life of the province. And it was a wonder, too, the attention given the lecturer. In plain, lucid terms the professors explained to their audience the value of good seed corn, of the best methods of fighting the diseases prevalent among cattle. Very few of the farmers took notes, but it was evident that little escaped them. If they didn't understand any particular point about the subject under discussion they asked about it, and then the matter was explained all over again until they

of the lecture. That gave him new energy. When he returned home he put some of the things he had heard in the lecture into practice and two seasons ago he bought another quarter section, and a making money hand over fist now.

This year's train stopped at eighty stations. From all sides they came. The farmers and their wives in wagons and automobiles. The merchants shut up shop for the day and listened with the rest. One old lady of eighty-five, insisting on attending the cooking classes, declaring in loud tones that "she expected to cook pork for many years yet."

An old man wished to learn how to fry bacon. His wife made him ten or fifteen years the people of all nations have been pouring into the Dominion at the rate of thousands a month. From the east and from all climates. Most of them have settled in the western wheatlands. In the last great farm land of the world, and it is only natural that with such a cosmopolitan influx there should come into the country many different methods of tilling the soil. As in all cases there is a right way and a wrong way for doing everything and farming is no exception to the general rule. Of course foreign methods may be all right in foreign countries, but climate, and soil conditions need varying treatment and these methods bring little credit when applied to countries which are not suitable for them.

The whole idea of successful commercial farming is to get as much return as possible from the soil each year, at a small cost, and without endangering future crops. It is a constant contest of its fertility each year that crops will suffer accordingly during the succeeding seasons. Soil like everything else can be overworked and so lose its productivity, and while the farmer may without knowledge of scientific principles cultivate his land with some fair degree of success, he cannot but exhaust the productivity of the soil before many seasons. "The old order changeth." Scientific management is the cry in all walks of life and when the matter is considered it is seen that the farmer needs it perhaps even more than any other business.

That was why it was decided that the farmer must be educated to a sense of his responsibility, to a realization that the scientific cultivation of his crops was essential. Once that realization was arrived at the men behind the movement began to look about for the best method of presenting these facts to the farmer with the result that gradually there were evolved the "Agricultural Special Trains" for scientific instruction.

When it was first decided to educate the farmers of Western Canada, the Agricultural College stated that they would co-operate with the Canadian Pacific Railway in the work. They did so by issuing bulletins by the acre, pointing out to the communities the best methods to be followed in caring for and cultivating the crops. These bulletins did a lot of good. "They at least prepared the way for 'Big Game'." However, they found the success that was hoped for largely because that personal element which is almost necessary for the promotion of a new movement was lacking, and so the plan was abandoned. Then the college tried institutes and short courses, but still without the desired result. It needed something new also delivered on many subjects relating to the home, including the care of the sick, the food best adapted for farm work, the management of the laundry, germ life in the home and water for domestic purposes.

A house stock car contained representative specimens of cattle (beef and dairy), sheep and swine, and poultry. Horses were secured at local points. Lessons were given in the selection, judging, breeding and management of these animals, and poultry, special emphasis being placed on their economical production.

Another car contained a variety of exhibits of interest to those who wished to know more about mixed or diversified farming. Among these were shown the rates of movement of water through soils of different textures, methods of conserving moisture in the soil, the way to kill noxious weeds, the power of seeds to germinate, the habits of plants, etc. Lectures were given in the car on such subjects as the best methods of cleaning dirty land and the most profitable land to grow. Farmers were invited to bring weeds for identification.

to aid the farmers in selecting seed that would grow strong and healthy crops. During the season of 1908 it covered a distance of over 5,000 miles in Western Canada. Lectures were delivered at 187 stations and the total attendance at these number of addresses given by those in charge of the train was 1,000.

This year's "Agricultural Special Train" left Winnipeg May 30th, it consisted of seven cars, four of which were especially equipped for teaching. One car contained equipment of special interest to women. It contained a number of appliances maintained in home labor in the home. Demonstrations were given in cooking, the selection of meats for the table, and the care of house plants. Lectures were given in the car on such subjects as the best methods of cleaning dirty land and the most profitable land to grow. Farmers were invited to bring weeds for identification.

were perfectly satisfied that they understood.

"These were many instances that showed how really effective the train was. At one station I saw a bright looking young farmer just what he thought of this new method of farming."

"It's fine," he said. "These agricultural trains have added thousands of dollars to our western crops. They have taught the farmers to take an interest in our work and our crops. It isn't just the learning of one new thing. That one idea will lead to others and then we have pulled ourselves out of the rut and taken a new start."

"I just want to tell you of an instance that happened over in my locality. I have a splendid, strong, healthy sheep, but he couldn't seem to get ahead. He said that the farmer didn't have a chance and he scraped along as best he could. Then when your special train came along in 1907 I got him to the clinic and here some got up in the mornings to get breakfast and he was tired of boiled eggs.

And so it was day after day. Those who lived too far from the stations at which the train stopped to reach them by driving, were given cheap rides on the railway trains and the lectures were always well attended. It is the farmers who have to feed the increasing population of Canada, and so it is a pity when the Agricultural Train comes round that they leave their crops and hurry to the nearest station to hear the words of advice from those who

CONTRARY TO METHODS PURSUED IN PAST WINNIPEG POST CARRIES SUB-DIVISION AD.

It is interesting to note that instead of severely censuring the National Townsite and Colonization Company for the manner in which South Wainwright is being advertised, the Saturday Post has at least taken kindly to the tactics of this company and, through the columns of that reliable publication, is carrying advertising matter relative to this new town subdivision. In the advertisement, although no great inaccuracies are found, there are nevertheless many far-reaching statements that are intended to impress the probable purchaser of Wainwright real estate that the town has remarkable possibilities that will develop to such an extent as to make Wainwright a city before 1915.

It is also surprising to see that no comment is made by Saturday Post on this new subdivision. It is remarkable and at the same time discouraging to compare the former sincerity of this publication to the stand now being taken. After a trip of inspection to Wainwright, an article appeared relative to the sale of lots in our town by the North American Bonds Limited. This article was followed by many others that were intended to better the conditions in the western real estate field, and especially regarding Wainwright. The key note of the whole situation was pointed out to the writer of this article by Hay Stead, who journeyed to Wainwright. The same argument also appeared in the columns of the Saturday Post and in effect was as follows. The G. T. P., in mapping out the original townsite of Wainwright, made it large enough to meet the requirements of that town for many years to come. Why then would investments be made in outside subdivisions when numerous lots could still be purchased in the original townsite at the same cost and in many cases less than in outside subdivisions?

CARRIED UNANIMOUSLY

By a vote that was almost a unanimous one, the several by-laws, covering municipal improvements, were carried on Thursday last. Although it was the vote for the second time on practically the same by-laws, the ratepayers went to the polls in a larger number than was anticipated. It was remarkable, however, to note that opposition to the extent of even two votes was given by the by-law, providing for the consolidation of the old village debt. Had this debt not been provided for by debenture, the ratepayers would have been compelled to pay off the amount by a large tax levy, in view of the fact that a large amount had been borrowed from the banks. The other course of paying off the same debt in twenty years by equal Annual instalments would appear to the reasonable ratepayer to be the more expedient and desirable course. Two votes, however, were registered against this provision but it was gratifying to see that they had no effect.

The reason given for the defeat of Laurier in Ontario is attributed to religion and the old flag, together with thousands of dollars from the manufacturing interests, the C. P. R. and English capitalists. This might be correct but it is more reasonable to suppose that jealousy and independence were as strong factors as any.

Calgary will get the C. P. R. shops. Such was the announcement that has been sent out from Montreal. The final decision of the C. P. R. has caused great rejoicing in Calgary, where it is expected that millions of dollars will be spent by the city in addition to that contemplated by the railway company.

AFRAID TO CARRY SIFTON

Mail, Fredericton, N. B.—The Telegram, a Winnipeg Tory organ, has opened a bitter campaign against Hon. Clifford Sifton. This is supposed to be the first step of the Conservative move to knife the former Liberal cabinet minister who helped the Conservative party to victory in the recent campaign. It is freely stated in Winnipeg that the Conservative leaders having used Mr. Sifton to the full extent of his value to them, now fear the consequences of carrying him along in their party after all the hard things they have said about him in the past. For this reason, it is said, he is to be dropped and the Telegram's attack is the first phase of the process.

The different constituencies throughout the province that are now minus a member for the provincial house are falling in line and starting campaign work in anticipation of the coming by-elections. By many, the outcome of the elections is considered dubious.

"Dick" McBride, Premier of British Columbia, has decided not to take a seat in the federal cabinet, preferring as he says his present position. His decision has caused great disappointment to those, who have considered him as an aspirant for the future premiership.

It is interesting to read the many conjectures being sent out from Ottawa as to the personnel of the Borden cabinet. From all reports and observations, Mr. Borden will emulate Laurier's example in 1896, when his strong men were chosen from the provinces.

In view of the fact that October 30th, has been fixed by Sir Wilfrid Laurier for Thanksgiving Day, there is little wonder that Turkey is on the run at the present time.

SASKATOON Capital—The Edmonton Journal, the premier newspaper of northern Alberta, has decided to discontinue its morning issue, and will for the future appear only as an evening publication.

Le Presse, the leading French paper of Quebec, which through the election campaign violently opposed Borden, has changed its tactics and will at least give Borden fair play. The proprietor is reported as stating that he considered the pro-Borden views to be a mark of broad views. He further states that he considers Laurier's day absolutely finished and that he premier he can never be re-elected.

There would be no reason for surprise were the United States to allow reciprocity to remain on the statutes. The cause for such a proceeding would entail an expectation of acceptance from Canada in some future year and the repeal of the proposal would reflect undignified action after Taft had gone so far.

Even though reciprocity has been defeated, the duty on exported grain may be taken off after all. The probability is that when the democratic party comes into power in the United States they will still follow their former policies and take off the tariff on Canadian grain.

A. Bramley-Moore, M. P. P. for Alexandria while in town last week, in an interview on the outcome of the recent elections expressed himself to the effect that the west would sorely suffer through the defeat of reciprocity. He said that it was not altogether improbable that the United States would take off the duty on Canadian raw material and perhaps leave it off for a year, after which time the Canadians would see what they had done in turning down reciprocity. When the Canadian people were thoroughly convinced that it would have been a good thing, the Americans could show their authority by reverting to the old tariff.

Edgerton has made the start and has made it well. The success of the first annual fair held at that point last week was worthy of deserving praise. The management can be congratulated on showing Wainwright that they do not intend to take a back seat. In this case, they certainly were more progressive than our town and district.

In a recent estimate, sent out from Calgary, it is stated that the 1911 grain crop will not be farmers about $200,000,000. The estimate goes on to say that although the grades will be lower and in spite of the fact that adverse weather has been experienced, the crop is so immense in the three prairie provinces that the farmers will have a very prosperous year. Wheat prices are exceptionally high and other grains command a good price.

The Duke of Sutherland is undoubtedly the greatest land owner in the United Kingdom and now, following up his purchase of vast tracts in Alberta, has added 12,000 acres near Fort George, B. C. From all appearances, he will not confine his purchases to England alone but will establish the same name for himself in Canada.

Calgary Albertan—The anxiety of so many Conservatives to have Sir Wilfrid Laurier appointed as high commissioner is the best argument in favor of urging Sir Wilfrid to remain at his post as leader of the party.

It is stated that the Licensed Victuallers' Association has raised a large fund to fight the local option campaign, previous to the coming election. It is expected that the fund will reach the $120,000 mark.

THE ST. CLAIR CO.
MADE BIG HIT

Popular Company here Last Week. Proved Excellent Drawing Card for Packed House. Each Night—Miss Mabel Cullen Undoubtedly the Best Actress ever in Town.

Without any doubt, the series of plays, presented here last week and ending on Saturday night, were superior to any that have yet visited the town. Other companies have doubtless presented plays that were equally as good but taken together, the St. Clair Company hold the distinction of having introduced the most varied, unique and popular ever shown in the local Auditorium. The dramas and comedies were popular in every sense of the word and in a way vastly different from any that the theatre-going public has yet had the privilege of witnessing. The opening play, "The Parish Priest", was exceedingly popular, and with the exception of the closing presentation, was perhaps the best of the series. On the following evening, the famous English dramas, "Dora Thorne", was played before a packed house, after which the genuine wedding ceremony, described in other columns, was solemnized.

The plays, following "Dora Thorne", were well attended and until Saturday night no interest was lost in the company. "Sowing the Wind", the closing bill, was absolutely the best presentation that Wainwright has ever witnessed. Aside from the fact that Mr. St. Clair's is the only theatrical troupe in Canada playing this intensely interesting drama; it was to say the least, one that appealed to all classes and especially those, who could appreciate a drama full of stirring pathos and rich comedy. Miss Mabel Cullen in the role of Rosamond was seen to greater effect than at any time, and was most popular. Stress ever playing into town. Her facial expressions, together with her rich voice, left an impression that will not easily be forgotten. Richard Scott as Brabazon again displayed and probably to greater advantage than before his superior and remarkable ability as an actor of the highest standard. The other members of the troupe well merited deserving praise.

On the whole, the week's engagement was an entire success. In addition to the quality of the company acting, the specialties were a strong feature, leaving no moment where interest was not at the highest pitch.

It is the intention of Mr. St. Clair to return to Wainwright in the spring, at which time, it is assured that he will be greeted with splendid patronage and packed houses. He has undoubtedly established himself most favourably in the estimation of the Wainwright theatre patrons.
